2.3.1 Teaching- Learning Process:

Medarametla Anjamma Mastan Rao College of Pharmacy seeks out novel teaching strategies to enhance students' capacity for learning by implementing student-centered approaches like experiential learning, participatory learning, and problem-solving procedures. Teachers and students participate equally in the learning process in a student-centered teaching paradigm.

Experiential learning:

Faculty members engage students in direct experience and focused reflection on a regular basis in order to increase knowledge, develop skills, and clarify their doubts. Incorporate rich experiential teaching methods such as experimentation, demonstration, group projects, online learning, webinars, video lectures, visual aids, industrial visits, organizing exhibitions, and skill-development programmes to create a positive learning environment.

Participative Learning: Students participate in learning activities like – Group Discussions, Small Group Exercises, Assignments, Elocution, Quiz, Case Study, Projects etc.,

- Assignments: Assignment topics are given to students in order to enhance their learning and language abilities.
- Seminars/Workshops/Conferences: We encourage the Students to Participate in Campus or outside the campus Seminars/Workshops/Conferences. These Seminars, workshops and conferences hold great importance of life of a student. They are platforms not only to learn new aspects, others perspectives and latest information, but also a good way of networking.
- Group discussions: Group discussions are held to help students create conceptual frameworks, learn how to solve problems, and share their own thoughts on the concepts.
- Journal Club: Students and faculty gather to discuss published articles, providing a forum for a collective effort to keep up with the current
